

B. ERKAM YAMAN

SOFTWARE ENGINEER

ABOUT ME

As a computer science student with a passion for programming, I have been consistently learning and working on projects in JavaScript, Node.js, React, and other related technologies.

I am eager to gain hands-on experience through an internship to further enhance my skills and gain practical knowledge in the field. My strong work ethic and dedication to self-improvement make me a reliable and committed team member. I am always looking for opportunities to learn and grow, and I am confident that my passion for programming and willingness to take on new challenges will make me a valuable asset to any team.
